Mrs. Tabor's Fine Art.

It may not be fully appreciated, but It may not be fully appreciated, but it should be, yet the fact remains nevertheless that Mrs. Tabor is showing in this city at the present time a choice selection of the finest paintings in oil and water color that have ever been shown here. Many of the pieces were copied or taken from original studies by Mrs. Tabor while studying under Bougeron in Paris the past year. The studies comprise a great variety of subjects. Fruits and flowers, portraits, ideals, genri, historical and other classes are represented. Oils and water colors are about equally divided. Mrs.
